

Counting the votes

At this location, starting p.m., the votes will be counted. You can attend. Feel free to walk in!

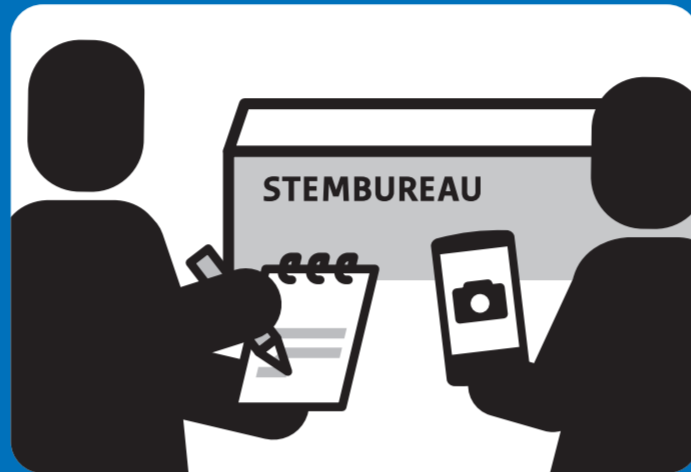

This is what you can do

Watch

You can watch, but you cannot help with the counting. The counters and the electoral committee members count the votes. Do not interfere with the counting process or get in the way of the electoral committee members.

Make notes

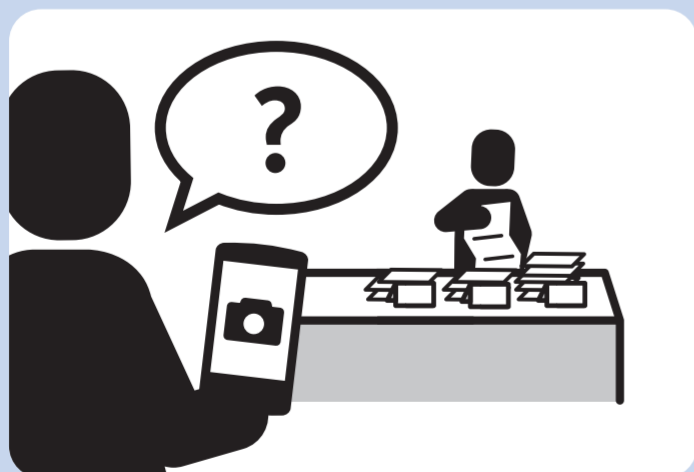

You can make notes, take photographs and make videos for your own purposes.

Object

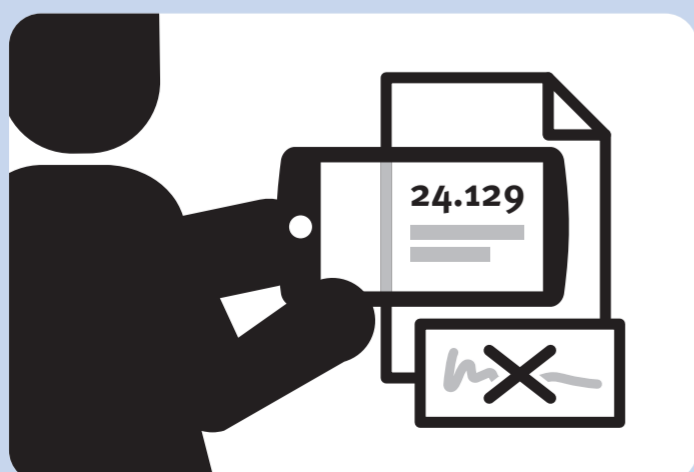

If you think that something is not right, you can object. An electoral committee member will note your objection in an official record.

Important!

Ask permission first

You cannot distribute any photographs or videos in which electoral committee members and counters are recognisable without consent.

Wait until all the votes have been counted

Once the electoral committee members have finished counting, you can photograph the numbers. You cannot photograph the signatures.
